

Citizenship Initiative

Join us in September for FREE Naturalization Preparation Classes in Historic Old City Philadelphia

The Museum of the American Revolution offers free civics and history classes to help immigrants prepare for the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services naturalization exam.

PARTICIPANTS Classes are open to anyone considering taking the U.S. Citizenship Test and are accessible for intermediate-level English language learners.

DESCRIPTION This course relies on the Museum of the American Revolution's rich collection of objects, art and stories to help teach the central components of the citizenship exam: American Government, American History and Integrated Civics.

LAST CLASS Our final class features a special information session presented by the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services and other immigration experts, providing helpful resources on the citizenship application process, eligibility screening the personal interview.

TIMES & DATES 5:30 - 8:30pm on Mondays and Wednesdays, Sept. 13 - Oct. 6, for a total of 8 sessions

COOPERATING PARTNERS: Catholic Social Services, Center for Literacy, Consulate of Mexico in Philadelphia, Esperanza Immigration Legal Services, Free Library of Philadelphia, HIAS/PA, Irish Diaspora Center, Mayor's Office of Immigrant Affairs, Nationalities Service Center, United States Citizenship and Immigration Services, Welcoming Center for New Pennsylvanians
